In Japanese cuisine,
Robatayaki (often shortened to Robata) is a cooking method involving a barbecue in which combinations of seafood, meats and vegetables are cooked at varying speeds over a hot grill.
Other kinds of foods are also offered in this style, mostly marinated, and glazed over the grill.
They are combined with exquisite sushi, sashimi, large combos to share with signature Futomaki Uramaki (rolls) created by expert chefs, and much more at the raw bar.
